

VOICE AI FOR EVERYONE

Voiceitt is a speech recognition technology for people with speech disabilities.

Created in collaboration with individuals with non-standard speech and speech-language pathologists, the Voiceitt app enables individuals with non-standard speech to produce standardized audio and text for both in-person communication and remote video or phone conversations. Through integrations with commonly used software, Voiceitt enables people with speech disabilities to access and interact with voice-enabled technology independently, using their voice. Voiceitt aims to increase independence, connection, and communication for people with speech disabilities. Voiceitt is now funded for eligible participants in Rhode Island through ATEL.

"I have continued to complete training sessions, and am now at the "Advanced User" level. I have also added to my "Personal Vocabulary" multiple times. Each time I complete a training session, I can visibly see a difference in its understanding of my voice!" - Taylor Woodard, LMSW, Manager, I&R and Innovation at The Arc of the United States

CONNECTION, COMMUNICATION & INDEPENDENCE

At home, at work, and in healthcare settings, there is less need to ask patients, coworkers, family members to repeat themselves or guess what they need:

- Increased opportunities at work through improved communication.
- Independent and more efficient Interpersonal communication.
- Smart home control through voice recognition.
- Patients are more involved in their recovery, which decreases frustration for both themselves and their medical teams.
- Accessible video calls for leisure, work, and telehealth.
